THE SPIRIT OF ENTERPRISE

THERE is no community so dead that the spirit of enterprise can not be breathed into it; and there is no citizen so obscure or interest so insignificant, as not to derive benefit from living in a community teeming with activity and radiating energy and enterprise. Enterprise and energy are the life blood that circulates to all members of the community, infusing into them life and strength.

Often enterprise is present, but in a latent or inactive state, and all it needs to make it manifest itself is the spur of initiative. Thousands of persons are born to follow to one that is born with capacity to lead. Every community needs leaders, and with able citizens to organize and to lead the forces already present it may be transformed from a state of lethargy to one of life and motion. Nobody thinks of the ordinary American citizen as a soldier; yet we know that, given the impulse to arm and train, he has been promptly transformed into the greatest soldier of modern times. It is the same with respect to development of local resources; given the leadership and the spirit of emulation, and the average citizen of any locality will devote his energies to the upbuilding of his community.

Doubtless communities differ in minor respects one from another, but they are all alike in possessing within themselves the potentialities of progress and prosperity. It only remains for the citizen to determine along what lines they desire to progress, and to decide what shall be the means and methods of accomplishing their ends. The possibilities are limited only by the energy and purposes of the citizens themselves.

What are you going to do for Klamath Falls during 1917? You doubtless have plans and aspirations for your private business. What are your plans and aspirations for your community? You can not separate the one from the other; they are so intimately related that the one affects the other and the limitations placed upon the one inevitably are placed upon the other.

You may expand your business to a certain extent whether your community expands or not; you may be progressive and enterprising whether your community is or not; but if Klamath Falls expands, if it is progressive, you will find it easier to enlarge your business.

Your business is only a part of a greater institution—your community; and if a wall is built around this city, preventing its expansion, the same wall obstructs your expansion. Selfish interest, if no worthier motive, should inspire every business man to work for the welfare of his community. All united can make it whatever they please.

Scattered Shots

AS YET we've not heard it publicly intimated that the raising of the bounty on coyotes by the county court was merely a scheme to stimulate the demand for shells and steel traps carried in stock by Roberts & Hanks.

HAVE YOU REGISTERED? Registration is now in progress at the court house.

IT'S BAD ENOUGH when newspapers criticize the president's Mexican policy, but when his own dear senate unanimously adopts a resolution questioning his recognition of Carranza without consulting the foreign committee—to say the least, it must seem ungrateful to him.

THERE SEEMS ABOUT as much chance of a speedy ending of the war as of a speedy institution of free mail delivery in Klamath Falls.

Churches Destroyed by Bombardment

English Editor Urges U. S. to Get Ready for War, Hinting Jap Invasion

Lord Northcliffe, in Interview With United Press, Says That America Is Now in Same or Worse Unprepared Position as England Was Before War

(Editor's Note—For an expression of the British attitude toward the war at the beginning of the year, the United Press today obtained a statement from Lord Northcliffe, who, through his fifty publications, is probably in closer touch with the public than other Englishmen.)

By LORD NORTHCLEFFE
(Written for the United Press)

(Copyright, 1916, by United Press)
LONDON, Jan. 7.—When some months ago I had the honor of communicating with at least 50,000,000 Americans through the United Press, I plainly expressed the belief that we are in for a long, long war. Events have followed the lines indicated. I do not pose as a prophet, but I know now something about the toughness of the Anglo-Saxon fibre as compared with the Prussians, and I know that each day that brings success to our strength is weakening them.

The German point of view toward the war is frankly that of money making and territorial aggrandizement. Germany's treasurer, Helfferich, constantly dilates on the indemnities that Germany is going to get. Germany hopes, in addition, to obtain the Belgian Congo. She was under the impression that the wealth of France would pour into her paw within a few weeks after the outbreak of the war. England wasn't expected to enter. Our pacifists, like yours, repeatedly informed the world that we did not raise our boys to be soldiers. England county. They deserve all the support each of us can give them.

ONE DIFFERENCE between the American Tuberculosis Prevention Association and the democratic administration is the fact that the former society has its revenue stamps for sale just at Christmas time, while the latter makes us buy its revenue stamps all year round.

WHERE ARE the toys which were so bright, so noisy and so much in demand Christmas Day? All in the junk heap, to make way for the sleds.

land's entrance into the struggle was as great a surprise to our government as it was to the Germans, for we had, with one or two exceptions, a pacifist administration.

But as soon as Germany entered Belgium, the common people, as one man, insisted on the defense of Belgium and its heroic king. The outbreak that followed in Germany was like the rage of a tiger balked of its prey. Germany consoled itself with the thought that John Bull was an effete old plutocrat, whose sons and daughters were given up to sport and amusements.

Our army was little larger than yours. The Kaiser in his famous Ais-la-Chapelle address referred to it as "Sir John French's contemptible little army." Since then, by voluntary enlistment, we possess one of the world's largest armed forces.

Your position is not at all unlike ours before the war. You are as eaten up with commercialism and pacifism as we were. And you are not in such a good position for fighting as we are, by reason of the lack of unity of races composing the United States.

On the other hand, you offer the same temptation to any hungry, aggressive enemy that we did. Troops can be moved to your shores from hostile nations in little more time than it took to move bodies from New York to Boston 200 years ago. The fact that we have transported at least 1,000,000 across the sea shows that any European or Oriental nation could, if you were unprepared (as you are), ship them to you.

Personally, I doubt that the United States will really prepare for war. There will be an immense amount of talk, as with us, and you will have people like our late Lord Roberts, preaching wisdom, but his views will be drowned in such melodies as "I didn't raise my boy to be a soldier," and so on.

One day the Laplanders or Greenlanders or some other nation (you can change the words as you choose) will notice that you are a rich pacifist, and will come and take what they want.

How would you like for us to interfere when they had accomplished their task and you were not yet ready, and for us to cry "peace," when, say, the Laplanders or Greenlanders were occupying Oregon and Washington state and perhaps California, places as you know extremely accessible to the Laplander.

This is how we feel about peace making before we are ready to impose terms we think necessary for the freedom of the world.

There has been an increase of 25 per cent in the employment of women in London banks since the war began.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

YOU CAN BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE WITH SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, and look years younger.—Adv.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

SAYS BACKACHE IS SIGN YOU HAVE BEEN EATING TOO MUCH MEAT

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood, and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them like you relieve your owls; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia water drink.—Adv.
